Unity Day Marketplace 2007 is a colorful blend of exquisite arts and crafts that show the creative talent of Houston. Vendors representing a myriad of cultures will showcase items ranging from original art to clothing, music, and jewelry. Much of the work displayed at the event will be handcrafted and symbolic of Houston's cultural melting pot.

Come and take part in the Unity Day Marketplace located at Hermann Park. We will open August 18 at 12:00pm and close at 9pm.
